INITIAL AGENCY DISCLOSURE PAMPHLET

Consumers: This paraphlet describes the legal obligations of Oregon malestate licensees to consumers. Real estate brokers and principal real estate brokers are required to provide this information.

to you when they first contact you. A licensed mall estate broker or principal broker need not provide the pumpillet to a party who has, or may be reasonably assumed to have, received a copy of the pumpillet from another broker.

This pamphlet is informational only. Neither the pamphlet nor its delivery to you may be interpreted as evidence of intent to create an agency relationship between you and a broker or a principal broker.

Real Estate Agency Relationships

An "agency" relationship is a voluntary legal relationship in which a licensed real estate broker or principal broker (the "agent") agrees to act on behalf of a buyer or a seller (the "client") in a mall estate transaction. Oregon law provides for three types of agency relationships between real estate agents and their clients.

Seller's Agent - Represents the seller only.

Buyer's Agent - Represents the buyer only

Disclosed Limited Agent — Represents both the buyer and seller, or multiple buyers who want to purchase the same property. This can be done only with the written permission of all clients.

The actual agency relationships between the seller, buyer and their agents in a real estate transaction must be acknowledged at the time an offer to purchase is made. Please read this pumphlet carefully before entering into an agency relationship with a real estate agent.

Definition of "Confidential Information"

Generally, licensess must maintain confidential information about their clients, "Confidential information" is information communicated to a real estate licenses or the licenses's agent by the buyer or seller of one to four residential units regarding the real property transaction, including but not limited to price, terms, financial qualifications or motivation to buy or sell. "Confidential information" does not mean information that:

- (1) The buyer instructs the licensee or the licensee's agent to disclose about the buyer to the seller, or the seller instructs the licensee or the licensee's agent to disclose about the seller to the buyer; and
- (2) The licensee or the licensee's agent knows or should know failure to disclose would constitute fraudulent representation.

Duties and Responsibilities of a Seller's Agent

Under a written inding agreement to sell property, an agent represents only the seller unless the seller agrees in writing to allow the agent to also represent the buyer.

An agent who represents only the seter times the following affirmative cuties to the setter, the other parties and the other parties' agents involved in a real estate transaction:

- (1) To dear honestly and in good faith;
- (2) To present all written offers, notices and other communications to and from the parties in a timely manner without regard to whether the property is subject to a contract for sale or the buyer is already a party to a contract to purchase, and
- (3) To declose material facts known by the agent and not apparent or readily ascertainable to a sarty.

A seller's agent owes the seller the following aftirmative duties:

- (1) To exercise reasonable care and diligence:
- (2) To account in a timely manner for money and property received from or on behalf of the seller;
- (3) To be logsl to the seller by not taking action $135 is adverse or detrimental to the seller's interest in a transaction;
- (4) To disclose in a timely manner to the seller any conflict of interest, existing or contemplated:
- (5) To advise the seller to seek expert advice on matters related to the transaction that are beyond the agent's expertise:
- (6) To maintain confidential information from or about the seller except under subpoets of court order, even after fermination of the agency relationship; and
- (7) Unless agreed otherwise in writing, to make a continuous, good faith effort to find a buyer for the property, except that a seller's agent is not required to seek additional oftens to purchase the property while the property is subject to a contract for sale.

None of these affirmative duties of an agent may be waived, except (7). The affirmative duty listed in (7) can only be waived by written agreement between seller and agent.

Under Gregori bw, a seller's agent may show properties owned by another seller to a prospective buyer and may list competing properties for sale without breaching any affirmative duty to the seller.

Unless agreed to in writing, an agent has no duty to investigate matters that are outside the scope of the agent's expertise, including but not limited to investigation of the condition of property, the legal status of the title or the seller's past conformance with law.

Duties and Responsibilities of a Buyer's Agent.

An agent, other than the seller's agent, may agree to act as the buyer's agent only. The buyer's agent is not representing the seller, even if the buyer's agent is receiving compensation for services rendered, either in full or in part, from the seller or through the seller's agent.

An agent who represents only the buyer owes the following affirmative duties to the buyer, the other parties and the other parties' agents involved in a real estate transaction:

- (1) To deal honestly and in good faith;
- (2) To present all written offers, notices and other communications to and from the parties in a timely manner without regard to whether the property is subject to a contract for sale or the buyer is already a party to a contract to purchase; and
- (3) To disclose material facts known by the agent and not apparent or readily ascertainable. to a party.

A buyer's agent towes the buyer the following affirmative duties:

- To exercise reasonable care and disperce.
- (2) To account in a timely manner for money and property received from or on behalf of the tower?
- (3) To be loyal to the buyer by not taking action that is adverse or detrimental to the buyer's interest in a transaction;
- (4) To disclose in a timely manner to the buyer any conflict of interest, existing or contemplated.
- (5) To advoc the buyer to seek expert advice on matters related to the transaction that are beyond the agent's expertise;
- (5) To maintain confidential information from or about the buyer except under subpoens or court order, even after termination of the agency relationship; and
- (7) Unless agreed otherwise in writing, to make a continuous, good faith affort to find property for the buyer, except that a buyer's agent is not required to seek additional properties for the buyer while the buyer is subject to a contract for purchase.

None of these affirmative duties of an agent may be waived, except (7). The affirmative duty listed in (7) can only be waived by written agreement between buyer and agent.

Under Oregon law, a buyer's spirit may show properties in which the buyer is interested to other prospective buyers without breaching an affirmative duty to the buyer.

Unless agreed to in writing, an agent has no duty to itivestigate matters that are outside the scope of the agent's expertise, including but not limited to investigation of the condition of property. The legal status of the 65e or the seller's past conformance with law.

Duties and Responsibilities of an Agent Who Represents More than One Client in a Transaction

One agent may represent both the seller and the buyer in the same transaction, or multiple buyers who want to purchase the same property, only under a written "Disclosed Limited Agency Agreement" signed by the seller and buyer(s).

Disclosed Limited Agents have the following duties to their clients:

- (1) To the seller, the duties listed above for a seller's agent.
- (2) To the buyer, the duties listed above for a buyer's agent, and
- (3) To both buyer and sellor, except with express written permission of the respective person, the duty not to disclose to the other person;
- (a) That the seller will accept a price lower or terms less favorable than the listing price or terms;
- (b) That the buyer will pay a price greater or terms more towarable than the offering price or terms; or
- (c) Confidential information as defined above.

Unless agreed to in writing, an agent has no duty to investigate matters that are outside the scope of the agent's expertise.

When different agents associated with the same principal broker (a real estate licensee who supervises other agents) establish agency relationships with different parties to the same transaction, only the principal broker will not as a Disclosed Limited Agent for both the buyer and seller. The atter agents continue to represent only the party with whom the agents have already established an agency relationship unless all parties agree otherwise in writing. The principal real estate broker and the real estate licensees representing either seller or buyer shall owe the following cuties to the seller and buyer:

- (1) To disclose a conflict of interest in writing to all parties;
- (2) To take no action that is adverse or detrimental to either party's interest in the transaction.
- (3) To obey the lawful instructions of both parties.

No matter whom they represent, an agent must disclose information the agent knows or should know that failure to disclose would constitute haudulent misrepresentation.

You are encouraged to discuss the above information with the licensee delivering this paraphlet to you. If you intend for that licensee, or any other Diegon mail estate licensee, to represent you as a Sellier's Agent, Boyer's Agent, or Disclosed Limited Agent, you should have a specific discussion with the agent about the nature and scope of the agency relationship. Whether you are a buyer or seller, you cannot make a licensee your agent without the licensee's knowledge and consent, and an agent cannot make you a client without your knowledge and consent.
